

THINKING ABOUT THE RESOURCES

The white farm house is the oldest structure in Oxon Cove Park. It was built around the 1800's. Historically speaking, the building is known as Mount Welby. We know that Mount Welby's appearance has changed over time. Take a look at the picture below. The picture is an artist's conception (based on historical photos and information) of what Mount Welby looked like 200 years ago.

Find Mount Welby when you arrive at Oxon Cove Park. Do the following exercises.

1. Compare and Contrast the picture above to the actual structure in the park. List 3 things that are similar and three things that are different.
